

Please leave Indiana's telephone privacy law alone. Before I signed up with their database, I was receiving as much as 10-15 phone calls a week from telemarketers. After I signed up, they stopped all together. Private citizens who are paying for phone service for their private residence have the right to be left alone by these people! Telemarketing isn't like junk mail that you can choose to ignore and throw away. It interrupts your time, they are rude and won't take no for an answer. Please help stop this invasion of privacy. If it gets any worse, people will have no other choice than to have their phones removed to stop the harrassment.

Thanks for your time!
Bob Campbell